ORANGE IS SCENE OF GAYETY

Palpitating Packard' Is In Honor Place at Plaza City

UNIQUELY DISGUISED CARS ARE APPLAUSED

Bathing Beauties Play Big Part In Caravan; Myriad Fun Features Planned

Ward Faces Indictment Following Grand Jury Probe of Blackmail Murder Case.

The lowly lizzie came into its own at Orange today.

Camouflaged, dolled up, disguised and otherwise made virtually unrecognizable, the small pet of Hank Ford was everywhere in evidence.

In the presence of an enthusiastic assemblage of automobile fans young and old and of both sexes, a picturesque procession of various models and vintages of the universal product emanating from Detroit wended its way this forenoon through the principal streets of the Plaza City.

Headed by an astoundingly equipped Ford coupe, the property of Eddie Pullen, former star of many a speedway duel, the cavalcade was greeted by the plaudits of hundreds, nay thousands, of men, women and children who came from far and near to witness the unique spectacle.

The redoubtable Eddie himself piloted his pet coupe. Riding with him was S. V. Mansur, head of the motor company at Orange bearing his name.

Next in line was a truck bearing an excellent brass band.

"Palpitating Packards"

And then followed the amazing array of "Palpitating Packards."

The equipages were not all of the humorous variety either, the spectators soon saw.

There was many a Ford sedan and many a Ford coupe that looked as though they had just stepped out of a bandbox, or a flower shop. Women were the drivers of these florally garlanded vehicles, in a majority of instances.

The caravan formed west of the Santa Fe tracks on West Chapman avenue, drawing unto itself a various assemblage of Fords that had assembled on side streets.

The signal to start was given a few minutes after 11 o'clock.

Remarkable "Creations"

Gus Adair and Clark Walsworth drew forth gasps of merriment with their "Desert Rat" creation. This outfit was remarkable chiefly for the fact that it bore not so much as one bit of paint. A real, live billy goat reclined with nonchalance in the space where the back seat should have been. Draped formidably across the front of the machine was a shotgun.

"The Lincoln Pup" was another bit of automotive engineering. O. M. Jenkins was at the wheel. The "Pup" was conceded to be the oldest and most paintless Ford automobile ever seen anywhere.

DEATH CASE WRECKS ARBUCKLE FINANCES

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, who last Saturday drove to San Francisco in his $25,000 custom built car and gave a party, was "broke" today. He doesn't own a car. He no longer owns his big mansion in this city.

For the film comedian, who recently was acquitted of the charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, spent his entire fortune on his defense at his three long-drawn trials, and is now dependent on his friends.

Arbuckle's pictures were barred from the screen following his acquittal, by order of Will H. Hays, director general of the motion picture industry, today declared in an exclusive statement to the United Press that he is so heavily in debt that until he can make new pictures he will have no hope of "coming back" in the motion picture or any other game.

We may have lost that opportunity forever when we rejected the League of Nations, but if so we did not lose the consequences. They are moving on us now. Perhaps there is nothing left but to await them passively. But it is pity we have not imagination enough to do now, in anticipation, what we will otherwise all know later by experience that we ought to have done.

The European impasse is of course based on the impossible provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. That those provisions were impossible was known as well when the treaty was written as it is now. Lloyd George knew it, but he was afraid of losing the next election if he said so. President Wilson knew it and said so, but he was driven to yield by the same tactics, on the part of Clemenceau, by which

New Japanese Premier Backs Plan for New Cut In Armaments

TOKIO, June 15.—Establishment of conditions, which will permit still further reductions of world armament will be an aim of the ministry of Premier Kato, of Japan, the new premier declared in a public statement today.

"The government will endeavor to expedite the affecting of an amicable adjustment of Siberian problems and to place in effect a policy of concord and co-operation with China," Premier Kato declared. "We also will strive for concord and friendship with other powers so that further reductions of armament may be made."

Premier Kato, who was a leader of the Japanese delegation at the Washington arms conference, was one of the original disarmament proponents in Japan.

JURORS HOLD MILLIONAIRE FOR SLAYING

Ward Faces Indictment Following Grand Jury Probe of Blackmail Murder Case.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 15.—Walter S. Ward, son of the millionaire baker, was indicted today by the West Chester county grand jury on a charge of killing Clarence Peters, former marine, on May 15 or 16.

Ward has admitted shooting Peters, but said he did so in self defense.

He asserted Peters was one of a gang of blackmailers to which he had been paying tribute.

Cal. Man Quits Pump Making to Take Baronetcy

LINDSAY, Cal., June 15.—A. H. Brisco has given up the business of manufacturing pumps in Lindsay and became Sir Aubrey Hylton Brisco of England.

Word received here today told of the arrival at Southampton of Brisco who left Lindsay a short time ago to claim a British baronetcy.

Brisco has been in business here for a number of years. Recently he received word that, through the mysterious disappearance of Sir Hylton Brisco, his cousin, while en route to Australia on the liner Narkuna, he had become the heir to the baronetcy and to a considerable estate.

BONUS BILL CENTER OF NEW SENATE ROW

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The presidential split with congress was widened today when it was learned that Senator McCumber, chairman of the finance committee, is going ahead with his plans to force the soldier bonus to the floor of the senate despite executive pressure.

Pressure had been brought on administration leaders in the senate, following a conference between President Harding and Senator Lodge, to postpone action on the bonus.

"The Lincoln Pup" was another bit of automotive engineering. O. M. Jenkins was at the wheel. The "Pup" was conceded to be the oldest and most paintless Ford automobile ever seen anywhere.

CLAIMS HUSBAND FIRED AT HER AS NOTE ROW IS HINTED

A. J. Young, known as the "potato king" of Huntington Beach, today was at liberty under $1,000 bail, following his arrest here on charges preferred by his wife. According to information given the district attorney's office Young emptied his revolver after his fleeing wife and a young laundry driver, of Huntington Beach, after Young was said to have intercepted a note that he says was written by his wife. A complaint filed with Justice C. W. Warner at Huntington Beach late yesterday charges Young with assault with a deadly weapon upon Mrs. Young.

Young was placed under arrest in the office of District Attorney A. P. Nelson here last evening. He had come to Nelson to file a complaint against the alleged "other man" in the case, whom Young wished to charge with abduction.

Posts $1,000 Bail

Telephone notification of the warrant for Young, issued there, interrupted the proceedings here. Young promptly posted the $1,000 bail, which was fixed by Justice Warner after Mrs. Young, it was said, had expressed fear for her personal safety unless Young was released.

The Young family affairs, according to Young's statement to the district attorney, reached a crisis yesterday when Young, suspecting the exchange of notes between his wife and the laundry driver, intercepted a note as Mrs. Young was attempting, it was said, to pass the note to the laundryman by hiding the missive in the folds of a newspaper.

Marital law was declared and the guardsmen ordered out by Governor Mabey late yesterday after formal reports had been given of his office of the killing of George Webb and wounding of H. P. Lewis, mine superintendent and one unidentified laborer.

Young admits the scene, it was stated, but denies that he used a revolver. He declared that he never had a gun. He was accompanied to the district attorney's office here by his daughter, a grown young woman.

Some Funny Stories

That his wife handed a newspaper to the laundryman with the remark that "there are some funny stories there you should read" was the account Young was said to have given of the incident to the local authorities.

"I'll attend to those funny stories," Young was said to have remarked as he seized the paper and got possession of the alleged note. Then he was said to have ordered the laundryman from the house.

The latter left hurriedly, and Mrs. Young also left. Shortly afterward she filed the complaint against her husband.

STOCKTON, Cal., June 15.—Thomas M. Rowad and his wife were dead today following a family quarrel.

Tracing her to a neighbor's home last night, Rowad fired two shots into her body and then sent a bullet into his own head. The woman died in a hospital a few hours later.

Four small children were left by the couple, two of them in Detroit with their mother.

STOCKTON, Cal., June 15.—Thomas M. Rowad and his wife were dead today following a family quarrel.

Absence of a witness, whose testimony was relied on to prove that a jug found in an automobile driven by E. C. Woodruff, of Long Beach, contained nothing more disturbing than soft cedar, today caused delay in the preliminary hearing of Woodruff, who is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The hearing was postponed by Justice J. B. Cox to July 12, at 9 a. m.

Charles Graham, of Long Beach, was not located when court officials sought to serve him with a summons to appear in court. Attorney A. E. Koepsel, representing Woodruff, objected to proceeding with the case without Graham, who was said to have sold a jug of cider to Woodruff.

This jug was said to have been found in Woodruff's car after a collision in the Santa Ana canyon recently, in which a car driven by C. C. Illingworth, of Santa Ana, was damaged and four of the Illingworth family were injured. Illingworth filed charges against Woodruff.

CUT STREET CAR FARE

CHICAGO, June 15.—Chicago rode to work today on the surface lines for seven cents, a reduction of one cent. Three tickets were sold for 20 cents and transfers were free.

LETTERS ACCUSING WOOLWINE MISSING

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—Mysterious loss of the civil service commission's letter referring to the grand jury charges made against District Attorney Woolwine by Ida Wright Jones, formerly in his employ, was under investigation today.

The civil service commission instituted inquiry after it was asserted late yesterday by Foreman R. W. George of the grand jury that the communication had never been received.

Arbuckle is living at the home of Lou Anger, his former manager.

Fatty is convinced that, if permitted, he could regain his popularity with the film fans. Since his acquittal he has received 22,000 letters from persons all over the world, all stating they would like to see him back in the pictures.

DANCER WINS DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Alice Muscovia, dainty Russian dancer, was free from her husband today, Superior Judge Fitzpatrick granted her a divorce from Boris Lerman, known on the stage as Boris Petroff, also a dancer, when the pretty Muscovia testified that her husband had failed to support her.

They were complaining both about the amount and the way in which it was spent. Otherwise there will be a temporary respite.

COMMENT

By Chester H. Rowell

France has driven Europe ever since.

Lloyd George did not dare insist on what he knew was right, but he did, characteristically enough, sneak in a loophole through which to get in later. That was the provision authorizing the reparations commission to do what the peace conferees were unable to do—adjust the reparations. The conference is now trying to do that. Technically it has authority to do so, even against the instructions of the French government to the theoretically independent French representatives. Practically it can not do so with America absent. And, so far Senatorial intimidation has kept President Harding from exercising America's right under the treaty to participate.

SO THE way out is clear. The treaty itself provides it and authorizes America to use it. Our participation, at the vital point, would not involve a reversal of policy, but only the exercise of a right to which we are already committed.

It requires only that confidence in America's power which failed President Wilson at the critical moment. President Harding at another critical moment had it, and the success of the Washington conference in measurably solving the problems of the Pacific is the result. Possibly he has equal confidence in America's power to meet the problems of the Atlantic. What he lacks is confidence in his own power to carry the reactionary Senate with him.

The one immovable drag on the progress of the world is still the United States Senate. If that body had imagination enough to picture before its mind's eye the world that is, the prospects of the world that is to be would be infinitely improved.

HOPE FOR CHINA IS EXPRESSED IN LETTER

Hope and belief that China's face is now turned toward a more stable government than it has ever had are expressed in a letter received by The Register today from a former Santa Anan, now in China.

The writer, by reason of his position, has asked that his name be not used. The letter was written May 12, and reads as follows:

"The present war in North China is over for the time being with Wu Pei Fu and his Chihli troops in complete command of the situation and Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian war lord, and his troops in hot retreat from Tientsin north and east and trying to get back to their homes in Manchuria.

"After about five days hard fighting at Chaisiien, a small point about thirty miles south of Tientsin, the Chihli troops were able to capture this point and strongly fortified positions of the Manchurian troops.

"With the capture of this town the Manchurian troops began their retreat, which at first was orderly. However, Wu and his soldiers followed up this victory very quickly and kept after the Manchurian soldiers so that they soon broke out. Chang Tso Lin, who had been in his headquarters east of Tientsin, went to the front trying to rally his men but as soon as he saw conditions he was immediately turned around and went for Manchuria as quickly as he could.

Retreat in Confusion

"His retreat was followed by train after train of his own men and their hurry and confusion was so great that the single track line between Tientsin and Mudjek was soon so congested that movement of trains was impossible.

"It is now reported that the Chinese navy has cut the railroad this side of the great wall; if this is the case it means that all of these retreating Manchurian troops will have to detrain before they reach that point and go into Manchuria afoot.

"Up to the present time little looting has been indulged in by the Fengtien troops who had openly boasted that if they were defeated they would loot the country as they went through it. It seems that they have all been so glad to escape with their heads that they have forgotten all about looting.

"It still remains to be seen just what will be done but we all hope that with Wu holding the reins from a military standpoint proper business men can be brought into the government and that the internal political trouble can be straightened out and that there will soon be a central government in Peking which governs the South as well as the North and West.

Art Appreciation

Members of the Art Appreciation section of Ebell club are pleasantly reminiscent over the picnic tea which nearly twenty of them enjoyed recently at the lovely country home of Mrs. H. B. Sharpless on the Newport road.

The afternoon was spent in charming informality with plans for the coming year's study outlined. It was decided to make the study subject, "Early American Printing Art" and much interest was manifested on the choice. A decision was reached to aid in the cooked food sale to be conducted by Ebell sections at the Blauer grocery, Saturday, June 17.

Mrs. Samuel W. Nau and Mrs. Thomas Hill were guests of the section for the afternoon.

Knights to Dance

After several postponements and delays, the baseball team of the Knights of Columbus has at last decided upon the night of June 16 at 8:30 o'clock for the long-anticipated dancing party.

Legion hall will be the scene of the pleasant affair which will be presented by the Knights. A small fee will be charged for admission and dancers will find the price well worth paying for Carrillo's five-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

their heels. It looks at present as though these Manchurian (Fengtien) troops need no further urging and will all have cleared out of this province in the course of a short time.

Railroads in Chaos

"For more than three weeks now the railroad service in this part of the country has been in a state of chaos and it will probably remain so for some time to come. Wu has given assurances that he will do his best to establish regular service on all lines at once but we think that this is just about an impossibility with the rolling stock in its present condition and with troop movements that are bound to take place now that the fighting is over to get the troops back to their bases.

"From our point of view China has a very happy outlook at the present time. Wu Pei Fu is a very progressive man and he has associated with him several very able and progressive generals. All of which leads us to believe that with these men in power things should come to a head and the present tangle be straightened out without much further trouble.

"It still remains to be seen just what will be done but we all hope that with Wu holding the reins from a military standpoint proper business men can be brought into the government and that the internal political trouble can be straightened out and that there will soon be a central government in Peking which governs the South as well as the North and West.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. His family physician, Dr. George, left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated irritations, especially carbonic acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from 2 to 5.

Miss Doris June Strubel is to open the series with an evening of "pianalogues," said by those who have heard them to be ingenious combinations of music and reading, some serious and of works of established literary merit, others light and amusing.

The artists on the former series, arranged under the France-Goldwater management, were Ruth St.

Denis, Lenore Shanewise and Charles Wakefield Cadman.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenmu, to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. Allenmu is a prescription designed to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspaper. He has therefore instructed his physician to repeat the prescription with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

VARICOSE VEINS ARE QUICKLY REDUCED AND TERRIBLE ECZEMA GOES QUICKLY

Strong, Powerful Yet Safe, Surgeons' Prescription Called Moone's Emerald Oil, Has Astonished Physicians. There is one simple and inexpensive way to reduce dangerous swollen veins and bushes. Use them daily. They are normal, and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning. People who have painful, enlarged veins should not use them for they sometimes burst and cause much misery and loss of time. Moone's Emerald Oil, besides being so marvelously effective that it at once destroys germs and poisons caused by germs is such a remarkable healing agent that eczema, barbers' itch, salt rheumatism and other inflammatory skin eruptions go in a few days. Piles are quickly absorbed and even goitres, wens and enlarged glands are dissolved.

For years it has been used in hospitals for boils, carbuncles, ulcers, abscesses and open sores, and with the final appearance of the quartette, Moone gave the address of the evening.

Tells Duty to Flag.

Menton's address follows: "Once more the duty devolves upon me of addressing you briefly, in my humble way, upon a subject which is near and dear to the hearts of every loyal citizen of this country—and perhaps millions of foreign born, who long to pledge their allegiance to it—the American Flag! I use the term 'duty' because I have been selected to perform this service, but it is also with a deep sense of the privilege afforded me and of the responsibility which I assume in accepting the commission. While I am requested simply to address you, and am at liberty to choose my subject, naturally the subject of discourse on such occasion should be none other than that glorious emblem, the history of whose origin and evolution we assemble today to commemorate.

"You have listened to the reading of an authentic history of the origin and development of the flag, and to the most eloquent tribute the mind of man can conjure, and it would be futile for me to attempt to attain further heights in that direction, or to add one whit to that pean of praise. But I may, in a more intimate way, discuss our relations and duty to our flag, and its influence and the influence of the institutions it represents and the principles and ideals which it typifies, to the end that, in our contemplation of its glorious history and our pride in the splendid achievements wrought beneath its sheltering folds, we may not lose sight of our obligations to ourselves, to those who in the past have fought and sacrificed for the principles and ideals for which it stands, and to the future generations who must assume the responsibilities and obligations we transmit to them, and that we may hand down to them a heritage as rich with the blessings of freedom and liberty, and righteous, stable government, as we have been permitted to enjoy.

Always for Righteousness. This flag has never been borne to battle by its brave defenders in any but a righteous cause. Born in the struggle of the American colonies for freedom from the yoke of the Mother Country, it established on the American continent the first really representative government known to man. Emerging victorious from that primitive struggle, it has been the beacon light of liberty to the people of every race and clime, and has been the inspiration for every struggle for freedom and democracy in the history of nations since its birth.

"In two succeeding wars with England it upheld and maintained the liberty won in that early struggle; by its victory over Mexico it extended the sphere of its influence over vast new territory and brought the blessings of peace, happiness and prosperity to the peoples of this new domain.

HUNDREDS PAY TRIBUTE TO OLD GLORY

Elks' Speaker Tells Banner's Renown

URGES HEARERS TO LET FUTURE JUSTIFY PAST

Calling upon his auditors not to be content to revel in the history of the past, glorious though it may be, but to resolve that the future shall justify the past and that all assume the full share of their responsibility in solving the problems of government, W. F. Menton, attorney of this city and past exalted ruler of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., last night in the basement of the Elks' clubhouse delivered the principal address of the Flag day exercises held under the auspices of that organization.

It was a keenly interested group that gathered to witness the impressive ceremonies. Greeted at the door by William McKay, and ushered to their seats, those attending watched the entry of the Elks, who took their places with J. Fred Parsons, exalted ruler, presiding, as Harry Garstang played a stirring march.

Following the brief opening exercises, P. S. Roper gave a history of the flag, which he asserted had its birth on May day in 1620 when the Mayflower landed on the shores of the new world. Tracing the growth of the starry folds from the first flag made by Pety Ross in the early days of the Union, he told of the changes that have come, including that addition of a stripe for each state as well as a star, until the present emblem was decided upon, of one stripe for each of the thirteen original colonies and a star for each state of the Union.

Quartette Sings

L. L. Babbitt, Robert L. Brown, A. J. Garroway and Walter C. Vieira, comprising the Elks' quartette, gave a vocal number, followed by the impressive altar service during which a flowery altar of red, white and blue was formed by Esteemed Leading Knight P. G. Beissel, Esteemed Loyal Knight V. A. Rossiter and Esteemed Lecturing Knight W. R. Gordon.

Probably no more eloquent tribute could be given than the "Elks' Tribute to the Flag," as offered by Stanley M. Reinhause. The conception and wording of the tribute combined beauty and loyalty to a remarkable extent and the eloquent manner in which it was spoken added immeasurably to the interest.

"The Americans Come," sung by the quartette, followed the tribute and with the exception of communing singing of "America," which closed the program, completed the musical offerings. Following the final appearance of the quartette, Menton gave the address of the evening.

Is your back giving out? Are you tired, miserable, all run down; tormented with nagging backache, lameness and sudden, stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an all worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy folks recommend. Ask your neighbor! Here's a Santa Ana case.

W. E. Gates, real estate broker, 728 East Walnut St., Says: "I was bothered with a soreness and dull pain in my back. Mornings I was lame and stiff. The action of my kidneys was irregular and unnatural. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought them at Rowley's Drug Store and used them. It wasn't long before my kidneys were acting right and my back was well and strong."

NATION'S FLAG IS HONORED HERE IN SONG AND SPEECH

Hundreds of persons in Santa Ana last night by Freeman H. Bloodgood and W. F. Menton:

Bloodgood—"The Star Spangled Banner" and the flag itself constitute a symphony, the sweet harmonies of which have reached the uttermost bounds of civilization."

The significance of a national emblem is that it guarantees liberty under law and that is the only kind of liberty it does or can guarantee."

Menton—"Let us not sit supinely by, content to share the blessings which this flag and its brave defenders have achieved for us, but let us as bravely and patriotically take up the burdens of peace, as they have borne the burdens of war, turning with faith and trust to the future, with full confidence in the righteousness of our cause and the firm determination to discharge to the utmost of our capabilities the duties of citizenship devolving upon us."

The principal speakers were Freeman H. Bloodgood, president of the Santa Ana Realty board, and B. R. Ford, local paving contractor.

Members of the G. A. R., the W. R. C., the Sons and Daughters of Veterans, the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary met at the Legion home on North Birch street and headed by a line of drum corps, marched to the park.

Carrying the banner for which they had fought in '61, and to which they were paying tribute last night, members of the G. A. R. occupied positions of honor on the platform.

Rev. Porter Presides

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, presided, introducing Mrs. Harry Leipis, who led in community singing. Maurice Phillips rendered "When the Boys Come Home" as a vocal solo, and Mrs. Thomas W. Willits sang "Your Flag and My Flag."

Troop No. 10 of the Boy Scouts in uniform marched to the platform, where they led in saluting the flag.

Taking "The Flag That Never Retreats" as his topic, Bloodgood delivered a stirring address, of historic and inspirational value. Telling of the struggles and heart-throbs which inspired the writing of the national anthem, and of the events through which the flag has come victorious, Bloodgood urged reverence and respect for the banner, as a symbol of all for which this nation stands. His address follows in part:

"It is good for the soul to worship at the shrine of its ideals. Francis Scott Key, author of the words to our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," is worthy of a portion of our homage on this our National Flag day. The occasion of Key's production was the bombardment of Fort McHenry, September 13, 1814, by the British."

"The poem, the song and the flag itself constitute a symphony, the sweet harmonies of which have reached the uttermost bounds of civilization."

"Old Glory Honor Guest"

"Every nation has a flag; and like the stars, one national emblem different from another in glory. Our own flag has so many clinging memories that all true American men, women and children have made it their inseparable companion so that it adorns the walls of every home and school."

"Tonight, Old Glory is our Guest of Honor."

Here Bloodgood recited the circumstances surrounding the creation of the flag, and told of the bombardment of Fort McHenry, which inspired Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner." The speaker was divinely inspired, and dwelt at length upon the significance of the words.

"Tonight a nation pays merited homage to the exemplar character and immortal contribution of Francis Scott Key." Bloodgood continued.

"Every day in the year from the flagstaff at the grave of this patriot and poet, the 'Star Spangled Banner' catches the gleam of the morning's first beam; and there the myrtle, the rose and the blue-eyed forget-me-nots above his silent bivouac will bloom with eternal freshness, watered by the tears of a grateful people."

"How best can we make sure that our flag shall always be there?" In the light of recent developments in the Old World, one hesitates to answer. Still may we not venture a few suggestions that would, if carried out, at least help to perpetuate our institutions of liberty?

"We have already learned that a vote can govern better than a crown and daily is this truth brought home to us.

"But a vote to be effective for permanent good must be coupled with education. This education coupled with a vote that savage nature most abhors. This education coupled with a vote that paces the cheek of tyranny. Universal education and universal suffrage imbued with high moral purpose and a real, genuine patriotism of the heart, head and hand, will go a long way toward eradicating star-chamber politics and placing all the business of a commonwealth face up upon a public table, where all may see and understand."

Stresses Liberty Under Law

"Then there must be reverence and respect for law. If American liberty is to endure it must endure as liberty under law. For thousands of years man has been striving through dynasties and monarchies and kingdoms and republics and democracies to establish liberty of some sort, yet 'the only kind of liberty that has ever been permanent was liberty under law.'

"Without law and order and government regulations together with a large degree of conformity thereto, there is no liberty. It has been said that it is sometimes necessary to take away some liberty in order to preserve the greater liberty—that is, to preserve the liberty under law.

"When we put down revenge and evil desires and greed and put up in their stead, brotherly love and self-mastery and fairplay, we have gone a long way toward being free to live a happy life. The significance of a national emblem is that it guarantees liberty under law and that is the only kind of liberty it does or can guarantee."

In the second address of the evening, Ford nayed the man "who

Summer Bride-to-be Finds
Friends Have Conspired
In Pleasant Shower

Marked by dainty appointments, a charming breakfast was held at one of the small private dining rooms at James's yesterday when members of the wedding party of Miss Doris Sophia Bargsten of Orange and Raymond Harold Prothero of El Toro gathered after the pretty home wedding of the young couple.

It was an unusually attractive wedding occurring at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bargsten, 529 North Orange avenue, Orange. Standing beneath a swaying wedding bell suspended from a canopy of sweet peas and ferns, the young couple took their vows before the Rev. M. L. Pearson, the double ring ceremony being used.

The bride was attractively gowned in softest white crepe de chine with heavy silk Spanish lace sleeves. Her long tulle veil flowed from a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower of bride's roses and maidenhair fern. She was attended by her only sister, Miss Edna Bargsten, who wore pink organdy and carried Cecil Brunner roses and maidenhair ferns. George Hasemeyer of this city served the groom as best man.

Following the breakfast at James's Mr. and Mrs. Prothero left for a motor honeymoon to Santa Barbara and other northern points. The bride wore a smart three-piece suit of navy blue point twill and henna Canton crepe with accessories to match. Upon their return they will reside in a pretty new bungalow on the groom's ranch at El Toro.

Both Mr. Prothero and his bride are natives of Orange county, the former being the son of Mrs. William V. Whisler of El Toro and a graduate of Santa Ana high school and the latter a graduate of Orange Union high school.

Only members of the immediate family witnessed the ceremony of their wedding, while at the wedding breakfast, covers were placed for the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Prothero, Mr. and Mrs. William Whisler, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bargsten, Miss Edna Bargsten, Mr. Hasemeyer and the Rev. Mr. Pearson.

Tribe's Leader

For the first time in the history of the Five Civilized Tribes, a woman is about to become an Indian chieftain — or chieftainess.

She is Mrs. Alice B. Davis of We woka, Okla., who has been chosen by the Seminoles as their leader.

Mr. Davis was born 70 years ago close by historic Park Hill, near Tahequa, the ancient capital of the Cherokee nation. Her father was the late Dr. John F. Brown, a power in the early days of the Indian country. Although she is the first woman, so far as history shows, ever to assume the post as head of any of the Civilized Tribes, the greater part of her life has been spent in welfare work among the Indians.

Tables were then decked with clusters of sweet peas and a delicious two course tea menu served, with the sweet pea motif used throughout.

The guest list of Mrs. McCain and Mrs. Edgar included in addition to the honoree, Mrs. Harry Kendall, Mrs. Charles S. Kendall, Mrs. Charles Kendall Jr., Mrs. Henry Lockett, Mrs. John Irwin, Mrs. John Burrows, Mrs. C. M. McCain, Mrs. John Jacobs Jr., Mrs. Elmer Pressey, Mrs. Thomas Willets Jr., Mrs. Lester Tubbs, Mrs. James Livesey Jr., Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. E. D. Van Meter, Mrs. H. E. W. Departing School Comrade

Honor Guest at Merry

Balboa Beach Party

When Truman Dasham returns to his San Francisco home after a winter spent in attending Santa Ana high school, one of his pleasantest memories will be of the farewell party at Balboa given yesterday in his honor by Miss Lizzetta Phillips.

It was farthest from the thoughts of the honor guest that there was to be a picnic, when he accepted the suggestion of a group of his comrades that they go to the beach for a plunge, so when the party motored down and were greeted upon their arrival by a group of girl friends, the surprise was complete.

All manner of beach sports, including boating and swimming, were enjoyed and at the supper hour, the contents of well filled baskets made a most enjoyable feature.

Those in the party were the young hostess, Miss Lizzetta Phillips, Miss Ila Biggs, Miss Virginia Slabaugh, Miss Dessa Sherwood, Miss Phyllis Battey, Miss Lydia Napier, Jack Langley, Loren Cannon, Lyle Roberts and the honor guest, Truman Dasham. Mrs. Frank Cannon and Mrs. Charles E. Phillips chaperoned the merry young people.

W. C. T. U.

Despite the disappointment attendant upon the failure of Mrs. Catherine Phillips Edson to be present at the monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. held Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist church, the presence of Senator Walter Eden offered a splendid substitute and the meeting was a highly interesting one.

With the president, Mrs. J. H. Scott in charge, the service opened with the song "Help Somebody Today" after which Miss Carswell led in the devotions. The union endorsed the action of their president in her offer to the Y. M. C. A. to furnish a room in the new building. The union has on hands for sale, non-alcoholic flavorings with Mrs. Harding in charge. They can be secured from the leaders of the four sections.

Senator Eden was then introduced and spoke on the "Sample Bill" and its attempt to curb the practice of law by those not eligible. The gathering was favored with a solo by Mrs. H. H. Brackett, who was accompanied by Miss Mame Havens.

The newly elected county president, Mrs. Estella Harper of Garden Grove was present and spoke on the plans of the work for the year. Very interesting reports of the state convention held in Glendale May 23-26 were given by Mrs. Lee Warren, Mrs. M. M. Tidball, Mrs. Anna Scott, Mrs. J. N. Anderson and Mrs. Gray.

The section meetings will be held on Tuesday, June 27, as follows:

N. E., Mrs. J. H. Rankin, 815 Spurgeon street; N. W., Mrs. Laura Stegeman; 327 Halesworth street; S. E., Mrs. C. F. Kleaver, 221 Cypress street; S. W., Mrs. Jesse Allbright, 718 South Sycamore street.

Daughters of Veterans

Twenty-five members of Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, responded Sunday morning to the invitation of the Rev. Floyd W. Rollins of the Richland Avenue Methodist Episcopal church to join that congregation in worship. A special Flag Day program was arranged in honor of the event, and the church was beautifully decorated.

Patriotic hymns were sung and a trio composed of Mrs. Emma Chapman, Mrs. Floyd W. Rollins and Miss Agonia Heimerding offered two delightful numbers, "America Triumphant" and "Voices of Freedom." James Colvin, "boy orator" pleased everyone with a splendid rendition of "No Red without the White and Blue." The interesting reading, "Salute to the Flag" by Mrs. Ruby Greely was followed by an inspirational address on "Our Flag" by the pastor.

The decorations were carried out in tri-color effect, great baskets of red, white and blue flowers, hanging on their handles gauzy bows of the red, white and blue tulle, decked the altar while the altar railing was wound with white crepe paper, was festooned with asparagus fern with small flags fluttering against the green and white background. The lovely effect was achieved by Miss Harriet Doolittle a member of Tent No. 10, who heads the committee on church decoration at the Richland avenue edifice.

Yots are responsible to a great degree for the actions of its future, be they for good or bad. A child forms its habits from what it sees and the habits become a permanent part of its whole life.

If a child sees clearly, he or she will think clearly. The eye is the mirror of the brain and if each image that the eye reflects on the brain is in proper perspective, the impression made and concepts received will be correct.

But, if the vision is defective, the impressions made and concepts received will be defective, and thoughts and emotions expressed will be distorted.

This not only is true of a child, it is true also of older people.

The World War proved that about 29 per cent of the young men of the nation between the ages of 21 and 31 years were suffering from defective vision.

The only way to correct this alarming condition is to adopt corrective treatment early in life.

It is the mission of the Eye Sight Conservation Council of America, with headquarters in New York City, to acquaint the public with the great need for better vision.

The clarion call for eye sight conservation must ring through the length and breadth of our land.

The responsibility must be placed and the evil corrected.

Educators who are moulding the lives of our nation's manhood and womanhood are doing their utmost to make the future generations a better people, physically, but they must have the co-operation of parents.

Father! Mother! Are you doing what you can? Are you helping your child? Are you watching over it and guiding it intelligently?

Rainbow Circle Girls Meet
To Honor High School and College "Grads"

"School days, school days, dear old golden rule days" was the theme of a merry meeting of the Rainbow Circle of the First Christian church recently when the class teacher, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson opened her class members who were recent graduates from Santa Ana high school and junior college.

Following the serving of a delicious 6 o'clock dinner, the evening's merriment opened with a school session during which difficult examinations were offered the pupils.

A class day program followed in which Miss Etta Conkle sang, Miss Thelma King gave a clever reading and Miss Clella Prough offered a saxophone solo. The class will was then read to the amusement of all, and "diplomas" were handed to the graduates.

Miss Clea Allen, class president, had charge of the highly entertaining program, at the close of which dainty linen handkerchiefs were presented to the honor guests, the Misses Melvina Frye, Alia Neely, Muriel Rash and Eva Culver, high school graduates and the Misses Marian Gerrard, Elizabeth Parslow and Lillian Wehnstrom of the junior college.

Thirty members of the Rainbow Circle enjoyed every minute of the evening.

Boys' Class Entertains
Sister Class at Party

The Young Men's Bible class of Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church with Mr. Matt Purdon as teacher, entertained the "L of L" girls' class, of which Mrs. McGill is teacher, last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Mary Rogers and Russell Rogers.

The living rooms were tastefully decorated in the girls' class colors. After a number of jolly games were enjoyed, the boys served delicious refreshments of strawberry shortcake and ice cream. The "L of L" girls' class enjoyed a most delightful evening.

WILL HEAR ALLEGED FORGER'S PLEA FOR CLEMENCY TOMORROW

Whether Cecil Vaughn, of Long Beach, receives probation or goes to prison for forgery, will rest tomorrow on the decision of Superior Judge Z. B. West, before whom Vaughn's application is scheduled to be heard at 9 a. m.

In court a week ago, Vaughn admitted having signed the name of his stepfather, J. H. Frahm, of Long Beach, to a number of checks that were passed in Huntington Beach, Newport Beach and elsewhere. He sought judicial clemency. A week's time was allowed for an investigation to determine the merits of the youth's plea.

It was understood today that Frahm, the stepfather, is not opposed to the granting of probation.

A specially trained teacher, who would be paid a salary similar to those paid to high school teachers, will be required, it was pointed out.

This instructor will conduct home-making classes among the Mexican women, and Americanization classes among the men. Assemblies will be held in various Mexican homes.

BOARD FAVOR PLAN
The board went on record as in favor of the plan, provided a competent teacher can be procured. Steps to employ a teacher are being taken.

The board set aside $300 in the annual budget to pay the salaries of two instructors to be in charge of the city playgrounds during the two months this summer.

Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, representing the City Parent-Teacher association, expressed her warm gratitude to the board for the appropriation. Contract for the administration building, to be located at Sycamore and Church streets, was awarded to Bowman and Preble, for $8,950. Other bidders were E. W. Smith, $9,107, and George Barrow, $9,520.

The budget for the year was passed, allotting $14,000 to the kindergarten, $201,725 to the elementary schools, and $202,650 for the high school auditorium, bids to be opened at 1 p. m., June 28.

MAN BADLY HURT
WHEN DYNAMITE
CAP EXPLODES

A series of petty thefts and depredations had been called to the attention of the police today by annoyed citizens, who sought relief.

G. K. Knox, 1419 West Third street, reported that fifty feet of hose and a lawn sprinkler had been stolen from his place. Several other such thefts have occurred in his neighborhood recently, he said.

Two hoses were stolen from their pens at the home of Mrs. M. L. Harris, 401 East Sixth street.

Small boys armed with air rifles were suspected of having shot a hole through the window of The Toggery on East Fourth street.

This was the decision of the board of directors of the hotel company at a luncheon at James's cafe today.

The dining room will be opened just as soon as the kitchen can be stocked and the needed help can be obtained. E. R. Cooper stated today that he hoped to have the dining room ready for service before the end of next week. He would not attempt to set a definite date.

Matters concerning the reopening and future operation were discussed. The success of the hotel in the five months it has been under the management of the directors, with E. R. Cooper in direct management of the plant, has been very satisfactory and gratifying to the board, it was stated.

Specifically, Weaver is charged with having hired C. W. Hickey to drive a truck, which was alleged to have hauled the equipment from the canyon to Huntington Beach. A portion of the equipment was said to have been located by officers on the property where Weaver was conducting operations. Under Sheriff E. French, tracing the loot, placed Weaver and Hickey under arrest.

Hickey was subsequently released as innocent of the charge. He acted merely as an employee of Weaver, it was declared, having no knowledge of the alleged transaction.

DENY RUMOR STANDARD BUYS SUGAR FACTORY

A rumor current in Santa Ana today, to the effect that the Holly Sugar company had sold the beet sugar plant on South Main street to the Standard Oil company, was without foundation, according to C. A. Johnson of Huntington Beach, manager of the Holly interests in this county.

The rumor had it that the plant was to be converted by the Standard into a refining plant.

"There are absolutely no grounds for such a report," said Johnson. "I never heard of such a project. I certainly would know of it if a transaction of that kind were being attempted."

FOUR SANTA ANANS AWARDED DIPLOMAS

Four Santa Anans, Robert Crissman, Donald Darnell, Alfred Catland and Jay DeVoe, today were in possession of diplomas and degrees from the California Institute of Technology, following graduation exercises held at Pasadena.

Catland, Crissman and Darnell are graduates of the Santa Ana high school and DeVoe is a graduate of the Junior college here.

Crissman received his degree of bachelor of science in the electrical engineering department. The others received the same degree in the mechanical engineering department.

Prepared to accept a position with the Westinghouse Electric company at East Pittsburgh, Pa., DeVoe will leave Santa Ana within a few days.

J. W. TUBBS AS FIRMS' CHIEF HERE

J. W. Tubbs, who has been county manager of the operations of the White Auto company and the Motor Transit company, today severed his connection with those firms after an association of two years with the two companies.

Saturday he will leave for Bear Valley where he will remain the rest of the month on vacation. He will be accompanied to the mountain resort by his family.

Tubbs will take up active business life again July 1 as sales manager for Dale and Company, county distributors for the Packard and Reo automobiles.

He is succeeded here by Ray G. Shouse, of Los Angeles, who has been here several days, acquainting himself with the details of the business.

ST. ANN'S WILL BE REOPENED NEXT MONDAY

The rooms at St. Ann's Inn will be opened to guests next Monday and the dining room will be opened within several days thereafter.

This was the decision of the board of directors of the hotel company at a luncheon at James's cafe today.

The dining room will be opened just as soon as the kitchen can be stocked and the needed help can be obtained. E. R. Cooper stated today that he hoped to have the dining room ready for service before the end of next week. He would not attempt to set a definite date.

ESCAPED INMATE OF NORWALK IN CUSTODY

Nick Braun, escaped inmate of the Norwalk asylum, was being held at the county hospital today for the Norwalk authorities.

Braun attracted considerable attention when he boarded a Pacific Electric car at a point not far from the asylum. Word was sent ahead of the car to the Santa Ana police.

Officer Frank Lutz met the incoming car and took Braun into custody, removing him to the hospital.

MAN FACES JURY ON CHARGE OF FORGERY

Carlos Silvas, of Anaheim, was to day on trial before a jury in Superior Judge Z. E. West's court, charged with forgery.

A. E. Schumacher, one of the proprietors of the S. Q. R. store, at Anaheim, took the witness stand for the prosecution and told of cashing for Silvas a $29.50 check signed with the name of Max Salscheid, proprietor of the Liberty Grill, at Anaheim.

This signature was alleged to have been forged.

Silvas, who denied his guilt, was defended by Attorney Arthur E. Koepsel, of Santa Ana, who was appointed by the court to defend the accused.

Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley appeared for the state.

Members of the jury at the Silvas trial are: J. H. Utz, M. O. Ainsworth, Mrs. Edna Stephenson, W. D. Livingston, A. R. Christensen, Mrs. Esther F. Chapman, Mrs. Rebecca Pope, Mrs. Frances B. Shepherd, Eugene Livingston, Harry Horne and W. F. Lutz.

PLAN NEW DRIVE ON OVERLOADED TRUCKS

Even more efficient and more aggressive enforcement of load weight regulations than that which has already been adopted by the Orange county undepended leadership of the state in that respect, was foreseen today by District Attorney A. P. Nelson, whose advocacy of road foremen as deputy sheriffs has been approved by the supervisors and now awaits sanction of Sheriff C. E. Jackson.

The flag is not safe until one language is spoken in the country, he told the Lions. Those who persist in worshipping God in a foreign language should be sent back or rather of his obligations under the law.

The action of the directors in giving $250 for the furnishing of a room in the Y. M. C. A. was approved in a roll call vote.

Elmer Heidt and Bruce Monroe entertained with an impromptu vaudeville.

REALTY FIRM AWARDED $975 IN JUDGMENT

Judgment giving Hoffman and Smith, local realty firm, full amount of their claim, $975, against F. C. Eisenhour, Anaheim druggist, was handed down today by Superior Judge Z. B. West, before whom Hoffman and Smith's suit was tried last week.

The plaintiffs sought to recover the sum mentioned as commission for arranging a $32,000 loan for Eisenhour. The latter secured the money elsewhere and declined to accept the loan.

Stipulated judgment in the plaintiffs favor was filed with the court by the defense after the trial. The full judgment awarded the principal sum, $54 interest and $15 costs.

This has been a busy day with me and I have not had time to telephonate. Harold Yost, manager of the West End, but I hope the theater is still in tact, and that there are no holes in the silver screen.

From the manner in which yesterday's audience gave expression to its approval of Wallace Reid's race across the continent, I fancied Mr. Yost would require the services of the building inspector today.

And the way the dashing Reid tore across that silver sheet through rain and sleet and mud and burning hay, through tunnels and over mountain sides—well—trust Mr. Yost was not put to any great expense to repair it; that's all.

Never in any theater, anywhere, have I ever heard such a demonstration as that staged by yesterday afternoon's audience at the West End. Entering whole-heartedly into the spirit of the drama, the large audience raced with "Jimmy Dent" in his dash across the country. To listen to the audience one gained as much in entertainment as in watching the screen. There were many children in the theater and knowing Reid's love of little citizens one wished he were in the house to hear their delighted yells and enthusiasm of hand-clapping.

Story By Morgan

"Across the Continent" is one of orion Morgan's automobile stories, built upon nerve, perhaps the greatest example of which is the entry of a "poor man's car" in a great transcontinental race for a purse of $25,000 put up by Jimmy Dent, himself. Jimmy, driving one of the flivvers made in his father's factory, pilots the little car, known as the "Dent," at tremendous odds across the country, leaving his larger and more powerful contestants behind one by one. The action, which is at all times fast and spicy, takes place on regular United States roads, including those in the desert out Mojave way. The story, in its way, immortalizes and makes a hero of the small car. It brushes the dust of ridicule from "the flivver" and puts it on a pedestal of glory.

Wallace Reid gives a finished performance in the role of Jimmy Dent and handles his car with the expert touch of a king of the speedway. Theodore Roberts, in the portrayal of the elder Dent, gives the character many of the distinctive touches which have endeared him to picture audiences everywhere. Mary McLaren—she's such a wholesome-looking girl—has a pleasing role as secretary to the elder Dent and won her share of yesterday's applause.

And villains! Oh, my yes—a whole family of them headed by Walter Long, who has his first dressed-up bad man part in many moons. Pretty Betty Francisco handles her semi-villainous part skillfully and Lucien Littlefield helps with the "rough stuff" when they endeavor to check the speed of the flivver. The excellent work of the others in the well-known cast assists in making the picture quite the most entertaining and thrilling in which Reid has appeared in some months.

The White Mouse

There are other good things on the bill, too.

Lewis Stone, Ellen Gray Terry and Wallace Beery appear in "The White Mouse," a James Oliver Curwood story of the Canadian Northwest. It is a gripping short-reel feature. The action pivots about a tiny white mouse which awakens Stone, in the role of a Royal Northwest Mounted sergeant, just as a mad

VISALIA, June 15.—Construction of the new packing house for the Elderwood Citrus association is now under the direction of R. E. Stark. The building will be constructed of red tile and will be equipped with all modern appliances and will be large enough to accommodate the constantly increasing acreage of the association. The building will cost about $40,000 and will be completed about September 1 in readiness for the fall crop. It is situated on the Visalia Electric railway, in the center of the Elderwood district. The association now has a signed acreage of 700 acres of citrus fruits, including most of the prominent orange growers of the vicinity.

BUILDING WORK AT H. B. IN BIG TOTAL

(Special to The Register)

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 15.—There is a constant increase in the building activities here. Every available carpenter and contractor is busy. Since the first of January 163 houses have been constructed, an average of one a day. In addition there are many big contracts to be let in the near future including the $60,000 city hall and the $25,000 auditorium, money for which now is in the city treasury. The bonds were delivered last week.

The work on the beach concessions, which will cost about $30,000, is virtually completed. The dancing pavilion is being enlarged and the building is being remodeled to match the mission style of architecture which prevails in all the buildings being erected.

A new apartment house is being erected on Seventh street near Walnut street. It will be built in mission style, of stucco, and will contain ten apartments. It will cost $18,000.

A Masonic temple will be built during the summer and there is talk of building a moving picture theater on Ocean avenue, near Walnut St. Altogether, with the many houses going up, the improvements here this summer will reach the sum of $400,000. This includes work completed and in process since January 1.

Be sure and remember the evening of music and reading at the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 7:45.

ORDER DIVISION OF DIOCESE OF CATHOLICS

Catholics of Orange county today were deeply interested in the announcement that advices had been received from the Most Rev. John Bonzano, D. D., apostolic delegate to the United States, at Washington, D. C., that he had promulgated an order dividing the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey.

According to the Rev. Father Henry Eummelen, rector of St. Joseph's church, this city, such an order has been anticipated for many months, the movement for the division having been started some years ago by the late Bishop John Conaty.

The length of the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey, which included both Northern and Southern California, made it almost impossible for the bishop to give to the administrative attention which the growing sections demanded. This was one of the reasons for the division, according to the Rev. Fr. Eummelen.

The length of the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey and Fresno, with Fresno as the see, Los Angeles will continue to be the see of the southern jurisdiction. It is expected that Bishop John Cantwell will continue as bishop.

The southern diocese will include the counties of Orange, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Ventura and Santa Barbara, with an estimated Catholic population of 150,000.

The diocese of Monterey and Fresno will comprise the counties, either in whole or part, of Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, San Benito, Inyo, Fresno, Kings, Tulare and Kern counties, with an estimated Catholic population of 50,000.

To Tell New Bishop
Bishop Cantwell, in Los Angeles, has not received the official order. Disclosures as to whether he will remain in Los Angeles and as to who will be bishop for the new diocese will be made, it was expected today, when the official order separating the diocese into districts is received.

"The division of the diocese will be to the benefit of the church," said the Rev. Father Eummelen today. "The district at present is too large for efficient administration by the bishop. The new division will relieve Bishop Cantwell of a problem in administration that has been present for several years. The Catholic membership has grown rapidly in the district in the past few years and many new chapels have been established."

Organized in 1850
The diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles was organized by the pope in 1850, the Rt. Rev. Joseph Sadoc Alemany being the first bishop. This included all of Lower California as well as San Francisco. The former territory was withdrawn in 1851 and San Francisco in 1853, leaving the boundaries of the diocese as they have been up to the change just announced.

The diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles included twenty-one of the missions founded by Fra Junipero Serra. Most of these will be within the boundaries of the diocese presided over by Bishop Cantwell.

MAN RECOVERS
C. M. May, said to have been found near death from liquor in an Anaheim rooming house, had recovered today after a brief period in the county hospital, where he gave the name of Herbert Moriarity.

SEASON TICKETS FOR COMMUNITY PLAYERS' PRODUCTION ON SALE

Season tickets for next year's community plays were on sale today at the Santa Ana Book store, where they may be purchased for $2.50. Single admissions to the plays are 75 cents. Purchasers of season tickets thus save 50 cents a ticket beside having an opportunity to reserve their seats before the seat sale is open to the general public.

"The program next year will be much more attractive than ever before, as each year brings greater interest to the productions and an increase of interest in the community at large," said Ernest Crozier Phillips, producing-director of the organization, today.

AMERICAN WOMEN TO MEET KING GEORGE

LONDON, June 15.—Twenty-one American women and girls will be presented to King George and Queen Mary by Mrs. George Harvey, wife of the American Ambassador tonight at the first of three court functions to be held this season at Buckingham Palace.

The event will be distinguished by the return of all the prewar pomp associated with such occasions, and from the palace has gone forth the edict for the return to trains and feathers which were discarded after the war in conformity with the court economy ruling.

Foods For Health

How to Eat for Health, Strength, and Efficiency

1. Eat only natural foods.
2. Avoid flesh meats of all sorts, as these are unnatural foods. Use Protose, Nuttolene and nuts instead.

3. Take care to chew each morsel thoroughly. This greatly aids digestion and bowel action.

4. Avoid excess of proteins, which include eggs as well as meats.

5. Avoid tea, coffee, tobacco and alcohol.

6. Avoid condiments,—mustard, pepper, pepper-sauce, cayenne, vinegar, pickles, all the irritating spices and condiments.

7. Use salt sparingly. Many persons are benefited by discarding salt altogether. The food naturally contains a sufficient amount (Riche).

8. Eat simply, avoiding too many kinds of food at a meal.

9. Eat moderately.

10. Eat food which is relished. Such food generates appetite juice, which is essential to good digestion.

11. Use cane sugar sparingly. Meltose or malt sugar may be used freely without injury.

12. Eat some fresh, uncooked food daily, such as fresh or dried fruit, lettuce, heart of cabbage or fresh cucumbers (not pickles.)

13. Eat daily a liberal amount of greens to supply lime and iron. Protose, Malted Sugar, Malted Nuts, Glutens and Savita are rich in iron.

14. Eat daily half a pint of milk or buttermilk.

15. Vary the diet from day to day, but avoid complicated meals and dishes.

16. The meal hours should be regular.

17. Take time to eat. It pays.

18. Drink four to six pints of water daily.

—Scientists, basing their conclusions on unquestionable experiments, declare that fifty per cent of the premature deaths in America are a direct result of improper eating. Good health and long life is more dependent on proper eating than on anything else.

—This store has recognized the importance of proper eating and has arranged to supply the town with foods that build healthy bodies. We have the agency for the Battle Creek Health Foods. Eating Health Foods is not a FAD—it's a common sense habit that everybody will profit by adopting. Here are some of the things that will make for better health.

MINUTE BREW—Something to drink instead of nerve wrecking coffee. If you find coffee making you nervous and injuring your digestion get the Minute Brew habit.

PEP—A breakfast food that is rich in Iron, food Lime and Vitamin. Cut out the meat you've been eating for breakfast and note the improvement.

MINTED NUTS—This is a food that aids digestion naturally, builds up the blood, bone and tissues. It is a vegetable milk, containing all the elements needed for the complete nutrition of the young and growing children.

PROTOSE—Better than meat and every bit as appetizing. Use it as a roast, as steak or as a stew. Try this for the Sunday dinner instead of the usual meat and see how much better you feel.

LAX—This is an auxiliary food, made of vegetables and cereals. Don't take nasty, harmful pills for constipation. Eat Lax and forget your trouble.

PARA-LAX—A mineral oil emulsion—healing and soothing to irritated membranes and not unpleasant to take.

SANITARY COOKED BRAN—Ready to serve. This contains besides the usual food elements in bread, mineral salts and vitamine, for which so many bodies are unconsciously starving.

BRAN BISCUITS—Delicious to eat and good for the health. Give these to the children instead of cookies and cake. They take to them at once and eliminate much stomach trouble.

SAVITA—A vegetable meat extract which is excellent for sauce, gravies, broths and bouillons. Try this for your lunch.

GLUTEN FLOUR—This is the famous flour for Diabetics. Those afflicted in this manner will find much relief and benefit through the use of Gluten Flour.

—These things are all economical to buy and pleasant to eat. We want you to have one of our booklets on the subject.

JUNE BUILDING SMASHES ALL FORMER RECORDS IN SANTA ANA

20-ACRE TRACT
OF VALENCIAS
IS SOLD FOR $90,000

Southwest Corner Third
Street and Broadway
Sold to Shaw, Russell

Further activity in realty on North Broadway was noted when it was announced that W. H. James, confectioner, has sold the southwest corner of Third and Broadway to Shaw and Russell, real estate dealers.

This follows the announcement several days ago that the Santa Ana Development company had purchased a fifty-foot lot on North Broadway, between Third and Fourth streets, from Joseph Gilmore and his mother.

James purchased the corner a year ago.

It has a frontage of 125 feet on Broadway and a depth of 100 feet.

He declared that the sale was the result of his having "spoken too soon." He named a price on the corner and the purchasers snapped it up without hesitation, somewhat to his regret, he said.

CONSTRUCTION HEAD OF NAVY HOSPITAL
TO MAKE S. A. HOME

M. F. McKinley and family have arrived here from Los Angeles, Colo., to reside. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley are parents of Mrs. H. G. Gans, of this city.

McKinley is a building contractor and for the past fourteen years has had supervision of construction work at the U. S. navy hospital at Los Angeles.

He is a Shriner and with his family came from Colorado on the Shrine special carrying members of Al Kali Temple, of Pueblo, in which McKinley holds membership.

The newcomer will engage in the contracting business in this city, he announced. The family is living at 715 West Pine street.

Election to Provide Gram-

A bond election may be held shortly at Garden Grove to provide $80,000 with which to erect a new grammar school building there.

This became known here today when it was pointed out that at least two new church buildings are contemplated for construction within a few months, that improvements on one are virtually completed, and that alterations on another will be started within a few weeks.

Catholics here are looking forward to the completion of improvements on St. Joseph's church next Saturday as being especially significant in view of the approaching ceremonies to take place there June 23, when young women and girls from the entire Western diocese will permanently to a bit of land and a home, he earns the gratitude of the nation."

"Therein lies the good fortune of the real estate man. He is engaged in marketing something every true man wants for himself and his family. Real estate salesmanship is a contribution to the solidarity of our country. It is the sentiment of patriotism reduced to practical terms. Every time the real estate operator attaches a family to the property of the real estate man who goes into the advertising columns at intervals has to sell his goods in competition with all the luxuries in the market.

"Of course, the advertising of luxuries is perfectly legitimate, but luxuries do not upbuild communities.

"The point is that real estate advertising, when properly done, is educational in the truest sense of the word. The most searching test of any community is the comparison between the total of its home-owners and its rest-payers. Communities are said to be solidly established in proportion to the number of families that own roofs over their heads.

Theodore Kistner, architect of San Diego, who has been tentatively employed to draft the plans, will confer with the board tomorrow night, when it is expected that he will be given definite instructions to proceed.

It is expected the question of a site will also be decided at the session tomorrow night. Several sites have been offered. It is understood that the board members are fairly well agreed on the location they will select, but their choice is not being made public in advance of the meeting.

According to William Lenhardt, clerk of the board, it is possible that temporary structures will be erected for the high school pending completion of the first units to be erected. It is not expected that the new construction will be completed by the opening of the school term.

To Employ Architect.

J. G. Allen, a member of the grammar school board, stated that arrangements would probably be completed this week for securing the services of an architect to advise the board as to the best method for remodeling the old grammar school building.

Investigating committees have recommended that the building be either abandoned or repaired. There are nine rooms in the building, according to Allen, in addition to which there are four bungalows.

Allen said that there is urgent need at this time for another building of not less than eight rooms. Adviseability of voting an issue of bonds for a new site and building has been discussed and Allen said there was every probability that the bond question would be discussed at the board meeting to be held next week. The exact date of this meeting has not been selected.

It is expected that the new building will be used for Sunday school purposes, while the material enlargement of the auditorium will afford additional seating capacity. No date has been set for the starting of the work, but it is expected that plans will be completed within a few weeks.

Advertising is Heart-Beat
Of Realty Business, Claim

Declaring that "advertising is the heart-beat of the real estate business," Edward F. O'Day, director of publicity for the Spring Valley Water company, of Spring Valley, Cal., in the California Real Estate Bulletin urges realtors to be constant in their advertising.

Excerpts from his article follow:

"No need to tell you what happens when the heart stops beating. And, of course, for the sake of health we must have a steady heart action. So real estate advertising must be constant, not capricious; it must be a response to the psychological demands of the time, not a special plea. Why is it that so many people are building castles in Spain when they ought to be paying installments on a bungalow in the suburbs? Simply because they are not exposed to the steady drive of real estate advertising. The real estate market is not stimulated by isolated ads; it is affected only by well timed, consistent and aggressive advertising campaigns."

"The real estate man who goes into the advertising columns at intervals has to sell his goods in competition with all the luxuries in the market.

"Of course, the advertising of luxuries is perfectly legitimate, but luxuries do not upbuild communities.

URGE MEDICAL SCHOOL.
LOS ANGELES, June 15.—President von KleinEmid of the University of Southern California is said to be working out plans for a $2,000,000 endowed Class A medical college for this city, with a teaching hospital to be established by the medical profession of the city in conjunction. It is expected that the work of construction will begin within the year.

speak volumes for the future of Santa Ana. The permits include, not only 289 single dwellings, 27 double apartments and six flats of four units each, but also modern school buildings and many business structures.

To Shatter All Records
We find, upon analyzing the building figures, that June will shatter all existing records, that the year 1922 will set a new high mark, and that there is no cessation of building activities in this city.

"If we read the figures aright, we will see that the new dwellings will account for 367 new families, that the new school buildings are absolutely necessary to care for our ever-increasing school attendance, and that the new stores and office buildings mean that we have outgrown our present facilities in all directions.

"Never in the history of this office has there been anything like the present building trend, and well-informed men tell me that it is more than probable that this activity will continue throughout the year. If the present rate is kept up, the building total for the year will go well over the three-million mark, and it would not surprise me at all to see the figures climb to three and a half million."

For the purpose of comparison, Decker cited the monthly building totals for 1920 and 1921. These were as follows:

Tells 1920, 1921 Figures
January, 1920, $326,120; February, $112,355; March, $112,355; April, $81,428; May, $46,537; June, $75,508; July, $158,100; September, $319,377; October, $194,592; November, $120,728; December, $78,631.

NEWPORT BEACH BUILDING SETS NEW RECORD

With sixteen days left in the month of June before the end of the fiscal year, building permits issued in the city of Newport are $45,000 ahead of the permits for the year 1920-21, according to a report read last night before the Newport Chamber of Commerce by J. A. Porter, chairman of the committee on public improvements.

The report shows that the total value of building permits issued from January 1 to June 14 was $151,389, while the total from July 1, 1921, to

June 14, of the present year, was $120,211, according to a report read

July 1, 1920, to June 30, 1921.

At last night's meeting deports were received from various committees appointed by the Chamber for the improvement of the city, and it was decided to co-operate with the Newport Booster club in properly advertising the city and its possibilities.

It was announced that the Boys' Booster club would actively support the movement for a monster celebration in Newport July 4. The Anaheim municipal band will be featured, and there will be water sport contests and a number of other entertainment features.

A. J. Twist, scoutmaster, informed the Chamber that every effort would be made to furnish proper entertainment for 600 Boy Scouts who will attend the Scout Rally in Newport

Wednesday, June 21. The proposed program includes rides around the beach, swimming races, diving, life-saving, and a weiner bake on the beach.

Last night's meeting of the Newport Chamber was well attended, an excellent dinner was served, and radio concerts were featured.

SAYS MOUNTAIN FIRE DANGER NOW GREAT

With grass in the mountains deep and dry, there is more danger from fire this summer than in years.

This opinion was expressed by County Fire Warden W. E. Adkinson, who was in conference today with Forest Ranger H. L. Snider, of Corona, in charge of the Trabuco division of the Cleveland National forest, relative to plans for watching for fires that may start in the Santa Ana mountains.

Snider is making arrangements to have a man stationed throughout the dry months on Santiago Peak, which is the highest of the two peaks that make up Old Baldy mountain. The lookout station is connected with telephone lines on both sides of the range, and sight of smoke from the lookout will be telephoned quickly to authorities. Adkinson's home in the Trabuco is connected with the government phone line that runs from El Toro across the range to Glen Ivy.

Danger Great This Year
"Anyone riding into the mountains from this day on should use particular care to guard against starting a grass or brush fire," said Adkinson. "I have never known the danger to be so great as it is this year. The grass is so plentiful that almost everywhere a camp is established grass must be cleaned away for several yards from the fireplace."

"Anyone in the hills or mountains should observe at least three rules," said Snider. "First, do not start a fire of any sort close to grassy and brushy areas, but, rather, select a spot where fire cannot possibly be communicated to areas in which fire once started might sweep beyond the possibility of control."

"Second, observe the law that requires that no campfire be left unguarded even for a minute, and observe the law that says that a fire must be completely extinguished before it is left. A bucket of water or more should be applied."

Tells Fire Warning
"Third, don't toss cigar and cigarette stubs and lighted matches out of your automobile as you go along or out of your camp. A man gets in the habit of flipping a stub from his fingers without thinking where it is going to land. He will light his cigar and throw the match away thinking that it will go out while falling—that is, if he thinks at all about what it will do. Some of those matches don't go out."

Adkinson insists that one of the most frequent offenses is that of leaving campfires unguarded.

"A man puts on a pot of beans to cook and goes off fishing," he said. "A gust of wind may sweep a brand from that fire on to nearby grass. If anyone were in camp the fire might be quickly put out. Otherwise it may spread entirely across the Santa Ana mountains."

ing a location for a permanent home. He declares that in his tour of California he saw no opportunity with better prospects than Santa Ana and he returned here fully decided to settle.

He expects to return to Omaha in the near future to close out his large business interests there so as to be free to invest in Santa Ana.

"Santa Ana is one of the most substantial cities in the state of California, and I saw none that compares with it in point of prospective development and advancement in realty values," Wood said today. "I doubt if many residents and property owners in the city fully appreciate what the advantages are here. Conditions and situations here are such as to make life real and worth while."

"It is with no little degree of pride that I now term myself a resident of one of the most rapidly growing and promising cities in the whole of the wonderful state of California."

SCHWEIGER RETIRES FROM MODJESKA'S

Lack of capital has resulted in a decision by G. A. Schweiger to give up his interests in the Modjeska home in Santiago canyon, he stated today.

He will sever his connection with the property soon, and possession has been turned over by him to the Modjeska Ranch company, of Los Angeles, he said.

Mrs. Schweiger and he will continue to serve meals at the inn and to receive visitors to inspect the old home of Madame Modjeska until some further adjustment is made in relation to the property, he said.

"In order to make the place a real mountain resort, a number of improvements, in my opinion, were necessary," said Schweiger. "Probably the plan now will be to sell the Modjeska home and yards with whatever land a purchaser might want, and subdivide the remainder of the property that I have held. I sincerely hope that the home will fall into the hands of some of Madame Modjeska's old friends and keep it open to the public. I believe the grounds should be open to the public as a park."

Hundreds of residents of the county have met Mr. and Mrs. Schweiger at Modjeska's. Schweiger said he hoped to locate in Orange county.

ASKS RECEIVERSHIP
A. B. Bounds today asked for a receivership of the realty firm, Duke and Bounds, 112 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, in filing a suit against H. K. Duke, who was accused of having ousted Bounds from the firm after taking him in, it was alleged, as a partner.

THE ORIGINAL AMERICAN

GRAY GOOSE—he was here when Columbus came. Nature has not developed Gray Goose in a day, nor a hundred years. His poise, his speed, his endurance, his self-reliance, have been developed by his necessities. The Wills Sainte Claire was not developed in a year, nor a decade. Back of it is the momentum of engineering since the beginning of time. Necessity—necessity for more flexible power, more comfortable riding, for better materials, for lighter weight, for safer and easier driving, for more scientific transportation—has produced this car. The Wills Sainte Claire is not inspiration. It is Evolution.

GOLF CLUB ANNOUNCES PROGRAM FOR BEGINNERS' CONTEST ON SATURDAY

Committee Urges New Members to Attend Affair and Try for Valuable Golf Prizes; Old Players Are Barred from Competition

President Charles G. Twist of the Orange County Country club today announced the complete program of events to be held Saturday afternoon over the club's links for beginners at the game of golf. Twist also declared emphatically that the contests will be for beginners only and that positively none of the old players will be allowed to take part except in exhibition matches and contests for the benefit of the new members.

The first event of the afternoon will be a driving contest on No. 14 fairway. Each competitor will be allowed to drive three balls, distance and accuracy to be marked. The prize will go to the beginner having the longest and straightest total. Any ball outside the boundary lines will not be counted.

On No. 16 fairway a contest for distance and accuracy with an iron will be held and on the same fairway and approaching contest will be staged, the prize going to the player whose ball lies nearest the hole on the green. No. 17 green will be used for the putting contest. If these events do not take up too much time several other contests and games will be arranged.

The committee in charge of the event urges all beginners to attend and take part in the affair. The prizes will consist of golf goods, and no player may take more than one prize. The club has arranged to provide golf equipment for new members who have not yet secured a bag of clubs, so there will be no excuse for new members not taking part in the event. The first event will start promptly at 1:30 p. m.

The list of members taken in during the drive follows. All are from Santa Ana unless otherwise stated:

SAYS DEMPSEY ASKS TOO MUCH FOR BOUT

NEW YORK, June 15.—Notice has been served on Jack Dempsey by the New York boxing commission that Harry Wills will do battle with him.

If Dempsey doesn't make some kind of a reply within a reasonable time, the commission says it will take steps to make him work.

Tex Rickard said he was willing to stage the bout, but that he hadn't recovered from the shock he got when Jack Kearns told him he would demand $500,000 as his end.

Wills, he indicated, has practically agreed on terms and he "doesn't want the moon."

If "Albany" would permit, Rickard would like to build another wooden saucer some place around New York and stage the fight on this side of the river. If state officials object he would stage the fight in Jersey City.

Mile Lenglen is indignant that her courage should be questioned and maintains that even in her present condition she would be able to defeat the American if she met her during the tournament.

The French girl said that she would play in the tournament at Lille this week as a test and if she felt no ill effects she might play through at Wimbledon.

EVENING SALUTATION

And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays.

—James Russell Lowell.

AGAIN, HELP PREVENT FIRES

Every summer forest officials and fire wardens appeal to the public to help prevent fires. Every year newspapers point out the dangers that lurk in unguarded campfires and carelessly discarded cigar and cigarette stubs and matches.

And every year we have fires.

The discouraging feature of the situation is that so many of the fires are the result of acts of pure carelessness on the part of those who know better.

During this summer thousands of residents of this county will spend all the way from a day to three months in sections where the danger of fire is ever present during the dry months. Not one of the thousands should enter the hills or the mountains without a consciousness of his individual responsibility. His measure as a camper is to be taken not on the number of miles he covers in his automobile, not in the number of trout he catches, nor yet in the tan he adds to his complexion. It will be taken upon the sincerity of his effort each day at each camp he makes and in each mile he travels, to safeguard the brush-covered hills and the forest-covered mountains against damage by any act of his.

In Orange county we are particularly interested in the protection of the watersheds in the San Bernardino and Santa Ana mountains, for it is from these watersheds that we draw the greatest share of water that we use in irrigation. With the forest officials and county fire warden declaring that the grass is so plentiful this year that the menace of fire is more pressing than usual, it is up to everybody who goes into the fire zones to use every possible precaution, and at the same time to give every possible aid in helping the officials in instilling into the minds of careless people the necessity of extreme caution.

WHO PRECEDES WHOM

It is very sad to learn that in Hawaii a major general and a rear admiral are prevented from going to the same dinner because there is a question as to which should go first. Each officer insists that he should precede the other, by virtue of his rank, and their respective departments at Washington have been unable to decide this momentous question.

It might be supposed that Secretary of War Weeks ought to know, if anybody does, because he is a graduate of the naval academy, and so is familiar with both branches of the service. It might be supposed also that Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt ought to know, because he has been an officer in the army. But each of these authorities holds out for the prestige of his own department. The judge advocates general of the army and navy respectively are likewise at odds about it.

Surely this question of precedence can be settled before it disrupts the government or causes a volcanic eruption in Hawaiian society. In lieu of a final official decision from Washington, a mere civilian would think that the officers could forget their rank for the nonce, and follow the rule of ordinary social behavior, which is to let the other man go first.

And yet that might not solve the problem. The thing might change into an interminable Alphonse and Gaston act, with the gold-braided officers and all the other guests starving at the door of the dining room. It is an awful situation.

SUPPORT THE GUARDSMEN

The appeal of Captain Harry Prichard for recruits for Company F, of Santa Ana, ought not go unheeded. It is to be hoped that the company will go to the state encampment this summer, as usual, with more men in attendance than are to be found in any other company in the state.

The company offers good training for young men. Membership in the company is not so much a question of war or of preparation for war, as it is a question of having an organized body of men for protection in cases of riots and disasters. The governor of every state ought to have at his command a considerable body of men upon whom he can call in case of emergency. It will be remembered, for instance, that the Santa Ana company was among those called to San Francisco following the earthquake and fire in 1906.

Company F is admirably officered. Captain Prichard is a man of good judgment, old enough to carry the weight of experience and young enough to be full of enthusiasm. He can be counted upon to lead his company successfully into whatever service it may be called as well as through the weekly meetings that the company holds.

LAW OBSERVANCE A HABIT

With most of us observance of the small things in the laws of the land is largely a habit or an attitude of mind.

That is, we do not always live up to the law as we know the law to be. We would hold up our hands in horror were it suggested that we steal an automobile or hit a neighbor over the head with a pick-axe handle. A moment of argument could persuade you that you are capable of robbing a house or forging a name to a check. No, indeed, for you are a law-abiding, respectable citizen!

Yet, are you scrupulous in observing some other laws that are just as plainly written on the books? For instance, would you, knowing that the city has an ordinance prohibiting the burning of trash excepting between 6 a. m. and 10 a. m., start a trash fire in the afternoon; or would you, as a matter of convenience, ride your bicycle on the sidewalk instead of a block; or cut a corner; or slip over the speed limit?

The man who is careless in observance of one of the minor matters of law may be careless in observing some of the laws that are of larger consequence.

This latter observation came quite strongly into bearing in a conversation that County Fire Warden W. E. Adkinson had with two outing parties in Ira-buco canyon a few days ago. The circumstances in each case were the same:

Adkinson found the motorists out of camp. In violation of law, they had left a fire burning.

Searching for the name of the owner of the nearby automobile, Adkinson found that the driver's certificate, which the law directs shall be placed in plain view in the driver's compartment, was not to be found. When the motorists returned, Adkinson did some questioning. Yes, they left the fire, but they did not know that the law prohibited it. How about the driver's certificate? Yes, the owner knew the law required it to be placed in the driver's compartment, but he hadn't obeyed the law.

"Well," rightly concluded Adkinson, "if you knew the law in the one case, and did not observe the law, it is my opinion that you knew the law in the other and did not observe it."

The thing for each of us to do is to develop our every-day conscience in its relation to the little things in law. It is not only the safe thing, but also the right thing. The man who habitually keeps within the speed limit will never have personal dealings with Judge Cox's "send 'em to jail" policy; the man who respects the right-of-way to which the other motorist coming from the left is entitled is not likely to be the cause of a wreck.

ARREST THE AUTOMOBILE

In one of the eastern cities that have been having most trouble with the regulation of automobile traffic, the city council appointed a special committee to revise the traffic ordinance. The committee included the chief of police, the police prosecutor, the chief justice of the municipal court, the city law director, and representatives of the local automobile club, and so ought to know what it is about.

This committee has submitted, as its principal recommendation, the suggestion that in cases of traffic law violations, the automobiles belonging to the offenders be impounded in a city garage for a given period and the owners be obliged to pay storage charges. There would be additional punishment of the driver in any case warranting it, but the procedure in normal cases would be to arrest and imprison the car rather than the driver.

This does look like a sensible solution, for the general run of traffic offenses. To almost any automobile, losing the use of his car is more serious than paying a fine, and should have a corresponding wholesome effect in encouraging careful driving.

COAL SHORTAGE LIKELY

The coal strike bores ahead quietly. More coal is being burned than is being mined. Reserve stocks, 4,000,000 tons a week since strike started.

Stocks on June 1 were about 31,000,000 tons. Using a little simple arithmetic, you learn that by August 1 a coal shortage is due—unless the strike ends or the open-shop mines increase their production.

The coal strike will be felt more, by consumers, after it is over, than now.

The Trouble In Cuba

San Francisco Chronicle

The political trouble in Cuba resulting in the resignation of four members of the cabinet is not fully explained in the dispatches, but is unquestionably due to the island finances, which, both private and public, are known to be in a desperate situation.

During the orgy in sugar everybody in Cuba seemed to think that he had got rich quick and proceeded to incur obligations on that assumption. Goods of all descriptions were ordered of everybody in great quantities and at peak prices. When the slump came the goods could not be delivered for there was no money to pay for them. They could not even be landed, for there were no warehouses to receive them. Some cargoes were landed anyhow to release the ships until the wharves were piled high. And for a year past sugar has been sold, so far as it could be sold, below cost of production, even at reduced wages, and enormous sums have been written off by banks as losses. Still other sums remain as frozen credits, which it is hoped may gradually be worked off by the American shippers whose repudiated drafts had been discounted.

We in this country have fairly well worked out of our trouble and it has been thought that Cuba, of course, was far worse off than we, was slowly pulling out. But the Latin-American has never been strong on finance, and the government is usually the last to get the full strain of a serious depression.

The nondescript character of the popular mass in those countries is a continuous temptation to unscrupulous politicians to get into high places for the purpose of peculation and there are hints that these cabinet resignations are of that class of men. Cuba is rich and solvent as a nation, regardless of present conditions. President Zayas seems to be a strong man, but, except for American pressure exercised in pursuance of the Platt amendment to the treaty, it is almost certain that Cuba would now be in the throes of a revolution.

Company F is admirably officered. Captain Prichard is a man of good judgment, old enough to carry the weight of experience and young enough to be full of enthusiasm. He can be counted upon to lead his company successfully into whatever service it may be called as well as through the weekly meetings that the company holds.

Trumping Your Partner's Ace

San Francisco Chronicle

A misfit marriage of a moving picture actress to a cigar merchant has just been declared off by Superior Judge Fitzpatrick in this city, and it was developed in the testimony that the awful thing which was the immediate cause of the proceeding was that the lady in the case, when playing bridge, had actually trumped her partner's ace.

There is probably not a bridge player in the city who is not ready to arise and say that a woman who would trump her partner's ace right before her husband ought to be divorced. If she was playing with him there was certainly the family loss of the lead and probably a future loss of a trick. If, as is most probable, she was playing against him, no resulting gain in the play could compensate him for the open shame and the knowledge of all present that he was unequally yoked together with a woman who would do a thing like that.

A peculiar thing in the case was that the divorce and alimony were granted to the lady herself, on the ostensible and strictly technical ground that the family discipline, which the husband proceeded to administer, however justifiable in itself, was in excess of that allowed by the law in such case made and provided.

Of course judges are really compelled to find reasons for what they do in musty law books, but if the judge is himself a bridge player no one will doubt where his sympathy was. But so long as there was a divorce the bridge clubs will not worry over the reasoning which led to it.

Preparing for the Guests

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

WHISTLE

The fellow who knows how to whistle—and whistles—is a benefactor to mankind. Whistle. Just pucker up your lips—and whistle. Any tone will do, or no tune at all. Just whistle.

Whistle the poison out of your soul. Whistle the anger and bitterness from your heart. Whistle hope. Whistle cheer. Whistle ideals about you.

Whistle.

Did you ever hear an unhappy man whistle? Did you ever hear an angry man whistle? Did you ever hear a discouraged man whistle? You never did, because unhappiness and anger and discouragement and all other unpleasant and ugly things blow right out with the first breath of a genuine whistle.

So be game and whistle.

When you feel failure in your bones—whistle. At the moment you start to scold—whistle. Before you begin to burden anyone with your troubles—whistle. Keep your whistle moist and ready all the while.

Whistle—for whistling is contagious. As soon as your whistle starts, the other fellow's is apt to begin. Whistle with your lips and whistle from your heart. Whistle out, and whistle up. But whistle, whistle, whistle. For whistling makes the difficult things easier, and the big things possible, it makes folks happier and the world run smoother—

Whistle!

A LITTLE WORD

The breath of spring was in the air;
My heart was light and free;
Sweet flowers nodded everywhere,
And oh, so merrily,
I trod a path I loved,

For life was bright and gay—
But some one spoke a bitter word
And all the world seemed gray.

Thick hung the heavy clouds o'erhead;
My aching heart was sore;
The nodding flowers were long since dead,
As wearily, once more,

I trod the little path to home;
All life was dark as night—

But some one spoke a loving word,
And all the world seemed bright.

—Irene Judy in Kansas City Star.

Defines Kansas

"What?" asked Margot of the reporters, "is Kansas?" which was rather an unfair question. "What?" asked Pontius Pilate, "is truth?" and philosophers and seers have been trying to answer him for 2000 years. It is no wonder he did not wait for the answer.

Margot has raised an equally unanswerable question, Kansas seems to be a state. It has the general shape of a rectangle, 400 miles long and 200 across. The census gives it a quarter less than 2,000,000 people with an unbelievably large per capita wealth and commendably even distribution of wealth. The thing looks simple enough, and off-hand one would say that Kansas is one of the 48 states of the American Union. But those are only outward aspects of the case. The answer is not so simple as that. Kansas is a state of the Union, but it is also a state of mind, a neurotic condition, a psychological phase, a symptom, indeed something undreamt of in your philosophy, an inferiority complex against the tricks and the manners of plutocracy—social, political and economic.

Kansas is the Mother Shipton, the Mme. Thebes, the Witch of Endor and the low barometer of the nation. When anything is going to happen in this country, it happens first in Kansas. Abolition, Prohibition, the Bull Moose, the exit of the roller towel, the appearance of the bank guarantee, the blue sky law, the adjudication of industrial disputes as distinguished from the arbitration of industrial differences—these things came popping out of Kansas like bats out of hell. Sooner or later other states take up these things, and then Kansas goes on breeding other troubles.

Why and how, no one seems to know.

Peerabout.

"That's a good idea," agreed Nick.

Mr. Sprinkle-Blow stood his umbrella in a corner and hung up his hat. Then he went and looked at the calendar.

"Hum, 'oh!" he sighed. "Let's see. It says 'Full moon—shiny.' The first thing to do is to rush all these handles back to place and begin over."

This he did. Then he pulled out the handle marked "Full moon—shiny."

And folks on the earth quit wagging their heads and gazing up through their long glasses at the queer antics of the moon. For the moon suddenly had become quiet and peaceful and beautiful again.

Peerabout looked thoughtful.

"Well, my dears," he said finally, "there's only one thing to do. I'll stay and run this old shambang for a moon while you go and hunt for Mr.

The Land of Opportunity

David Starr Jordan

"America means opportunity," and the young men and women of the republic should be trained to grasp opportunity for themselves. Their springs of action should be responsible to the individual conscience.

The "discipline" of driven sheep is not for them, however useful it may be to aristocrats who claim to rule by divine right.

In a free country it is each man's duty to abolish his own poverty. Collective discipline impairs individuality. The good citizen of America is not a chattel sheltered by a state he and the idea of compulsion has little place in a democracy. Whenever it appears it should be scanned most critically, for it is legitimate only in rare and exceptional conditions. Such need does not appear today. It may not appear when the high school boys of today have grown to be men. We hope, with Louis Ra-makers, that this is "Europe's Last Dance With Death." We trust that it is America's also. That is for the American people to say.

The blame for war is not often all on one side. No people ever has a quarrel with the people of another country. It is a few bad men on one side, or both, which plunge a nation into war.
